

A Limited Offer of Membership to the Exclusive "Future XI" Club

This exclusive club was formed by a group of dedicated business men and women who share a common vision for the future of the Australian Festival of Cricket and see the importance of supporting and developing the event, to ensure that it remains in Bowral - Australia's traditional and spiritual home of cricket.

Last year, the Festival was broadcast live around Australia by ABC Radio and was promoted exclusively in two episodes of Channel Nine's Cricket Show. This was on top of promotion given by regional media. The value of this national publicity to Bowral and the Bradman Oval and Museum was significant. This year it will be even greater!

The Future XI Club is limited to 111 members. As a member, you will receive:

- exclusive Future XI Club tie
- exclusive "Baggy Blue" cap
- dated and numbered annual badge
- annual magnum of Brokenwood Cricket Pitch Red signed by renowned wine maker, Iain Riggs
- access to a members-only website
- your name or company acknowledged at the Festival
- a profile on you or your company on the Festival website plus links
- opportunity to sponsor Future XI events

..... plus invitations to attend members-only and general functions including VIP Luncheons and Cocktail Party during the Festival of Cricket at the Bradman Oval on November 11 and 12, just one week after the arrival of the English Team and the coveted Ashes Urn, at the start of the eagerly awaited Ashes Tour.

The Club's membership funds raised go primarily towards promoting the event beyond our region. The Festival is also establishing a Foundation to help fund the training and apprenticeships of Australia's future bat and ball makers, umpires, curators and disadvantaged young potential cricketers. We are bringing 15 such young aboriginal cricketers to the Festival this year.
